CODE OF CONDUCT

The Exodus Foundation has a zero-tolerance policy of no drugs, no alcohol, no threats and no aggressive behaviour towards the staff, volunteers and guests that attend Exodus.

The services of Exodus are open to meet the needs of those guests who are marginalized and vulnerable. All guests have the right to feel welcome, safe and secure at all times.

All Exodus staff, volunteers, patrons, and guests are to be treated with kindness, respect and courtesy, and without harassment.

All guests regardless of culture are to be treated equally with tolerance and respect.

If you are at risk to yourself or others, due to the effects of alcohol or drugs, your right to some services may be restricted.

Behaviour that causes damage to Exodus property is not tolerated.
